1. In mid-July 1954, a group of about 15 aircraft were seen every day for a week, flying at a great height over Keila, 20 km. southwest of Tallinn. They appeared to be flying in circles, and most of them looked like MIGs. 25X1
2. A few aircraft flew low, and one day one of these was seen at short range, flying at 400 meters, and at the same speed as the supposed MIGs above. It had two jet engines, and the wings were not swept back. There was a roundish, streamlined projection on the front and lower part of the nose, which was silvery-gray like the rest of the body. The fuselage was of noticeably ~~squareish~~ section aft of the wings. There was a normal plexiglass dome over the cockpit (see sketch on page 2).
3. The aircraft dropped hundreds of streamers of silver paper, [REDACTED] They were silver on one side, and white paper on the other. Some were 4 cm. wide and 150 cm. long, and others were 2½ cm. wide and about 120 cm. long. These aircraft also flew at night, but no searchlights were seen. [REDACTED] 25X1
